

JUNE 2 DAYS OLD FULL OF MERRY FUTURE PROMISE

The Last of May Crowded With Many Delightful Social and Nuptial Events

CLASS DAY CELEBRATION TO-MORROW ON THE CAMPUS

Pleasantness of Early June Does Away With Necessity For Usual Summer Exodus—Many Attractions Offered Those Who Fail to See Necessity of Prolonged Absence

June, the month of weddings and roses, is as yet only two days old, but its promise amply sustains the claim that it has always made as being distinctive in regard to its social prominence.

The passing of May was gay indeed. The week began at the Woman's Club with a lecture given by Dr. Robert C. Bryan on the "History of Medicine," a subject that was a fine test of the lecturer's mettle and full of interest for his audience.

Wednesday and Thursday were crowded with entertainments preceding the wedding of Miss Margaret Cameron McGuire to Mr. George Arthur Gordon of Savannah. The chiming of marriage bells for that brilliant celebration has hardly yet died away, and the congratulations and good wishes of many friends are following, over the ocean, the young bride, given up to another than her Richmond home with the greatest reluctance by friends and kinsfolk here.

Friday evening, June first, witnessed the opening of the Woman's College commencement. The Bachelors of Music had an opportunity, at the annual concert on that occasion, to display their proficiency and make their friends proud of their attainments musically. The college chapel was crowded, and their fair young musicians were encored and bouquetted to their hearts' content.

On Thursday evening the staff of the "Chisel," the college publication, gave a delightful annual banquet at Rueger's, the entertainment being chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Garnett. The banquet was, of course, enlivened by a "feast of reason and a flow of soul," the editors making good their claim to the brightness and spontaneity of wit which renders the pages of the Chisel so readable.

The College Art Class held the centre of interest at its reception, scheduled for Saturday evening, in the chapel and parlors. The best artistic class productions were hung, and were favorably discussed and admired throughout reception hours by guests and friends of the students. To-morrow afternoon members of the Woman's Club will be entertained by a dramatic recital on the part of Miss Eula Bailey, who is attractively known for her ability as a dramatic artist. Mrs. W. E. Thurston will be chairman of the day.

Tuesday and Wednesday evenings will be given up to the graduating exercises of Westminster School, to be held in the lecture-room of the First Presbyterian Church. Prof. S. C. Mitchell will make the address, and the Rev. Dr. Russell Cecil will deliver the diplomas. Wednesday evening the reception, given the senior class by the juniors, will be held in the parlors of the school, No. 705 West Grace Street.

In the list of interesting Richmond June weddings is that of Miss Nannie Lay, of this city, to Dr. John Wilson Edler, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, which will take place very quietly on June 14th.

Miss May Belvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Belvin, will be married in the home of her parents, on Wednesday next, at 6 P. M., to Mr. Charles Kruse, of New York.

Among the Virginia weddings for June, that of Miss Sarah Massie Goode to Mr. Clifford Calcott Branch, of Burgaw, N. C., is a matter of interest to Richmond society. Miss Goode is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. J. Thomas Goode, of "Sunnyside," Mecklenburg county, and the marriage will be celebrated June 7th, at their home.

Another interesting nuptial event has to do with the June wedding of Miss Louise Jasper Barksdale to Mr. Tucker Carrington Watkins, Jr., of Houston, Va., in the Beth Car Baptist Church. Both of the young people are well known in Richmond.

Of special interest to Richmonders was the wedding, on yesterday, of Miss Mary Taska James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, of Catonsville, Md., to Dr. Cooper Drewry, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Drewry, of "Minneola," Chesterfield county. The marriage celebration, taking place in St. Timothy's Church, Catonsville, yesterday afternoon, was a fashionable and largely attended affair.

The whist clubs have all disbanded for the summer except the Stay-at-Home organization, which prides itself on the pleasantness of its weekly summer sessions, that are always lively and well-attended contests.

The charming coolness of the atmosphere and the forecast of pleasant weather for June has done away with any tendency toward a summer exodus. Indeed, Richmond, with its parks and its facilities for week-end or daily outings, its Casino and its summer programme of amusements, has grown so attractive as a place of residence that there is less and less inclination or necessity for prolonged absences on the part of the people who live here.

Even those with country homes have a fashion of coming back now and then during the season for the pleasures and opportunities which Richmond affords.

Engagements Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Brown, of No. 926 West Grace Street, this city, announce the engagement of their daughter, Julia Griffin, to Dr. Allen Weir Freeman, of Richmond. They also announce the engagement of their daughter, Rose Andrews, to Mr. John Benjamin Swartwout, of this city. The double wedding will be celebrated the last of this month.

Littlejohn—Bolling.

The wedding of Miss Rebecca Lee Bolling, daughter of the late William Bolling, of Petersburg, Va., to Mr. Robert Malcolm Littlejohn, of Flushing, L. I., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lomax Littlejohn, of England, was celebrated in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Rieck, of No. 1007 North Calvert Street, Baltimore, yesterday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the Rev. Robert S. W. Wood, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Goldsborough Henry, as matron of honor, and was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. R. G. Henry. Mr. Lomax Littlejohn, the groom's brother, was best man. The Hon. Robert E. Lee, Jr., of Ravensworth, Va., and Mr. Arthur Rodman Townsend, of New York, were the ushers.

President of Class.

Invitations have been received in Richmond for commencement week exercises at Hollins Institute and, as the president of the graduating class for this year, is Miss Rose McGuire Satterfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Satterfield, of Hollins Institute, near New Market, Va.

Miss Satterfield is a charming young girl, who is extremely popular with younger society circles in Richmond. Her mother, Mrs. Calvin Satterfield, and her father, Mr. Calvin Satterfield, are prominent in the community. She is a typical Virginia girl, modest, refined and cultured. Her picture appeared in the society column of The Times-Dispatch some weeks ago.

Studio Reception.

The May number of "Vogue" contains a notice of a Studio Reception of Miss Mabelle D. Apperson and Miss Sibyl Conkling, of California, at No. 422 Central Park, West, New York, in which Miss Apperson exhibited water colors

Leader of Class.

The leader of the graduating class of Hollins on the class roll is Miss Mary Goode-Anderson, daughter of Judge and Mrs. George Kimbrough Anderson, of Clifton Forge, Va.

Easy Oxfords

Miss Anderson, who stands unusually high in her attainments and in the estimation of the faculty of Hollins, recently won the prize offered by the Virginia Dames for the best essay on a colonial subject, her theme being "Little Men and Little Women in Old Virginia."

made in New York and Venetian studies made abroad, and a number of songs were sung by Miss Conkling.

Miss Apperson is a Richmond girl, who spent her early life here, but latterly has made her home in Danville, Va. In a short while she will return to her former home here, after having spent three years or more in her art studies in New York and Venice.

Her cousin, Miss Conkling, is expected to be here soon also, and has made a high reputation as contralto singer in her home and in New York concert work.

Many relatives and friends will be glad to welcome Miss Apperson back home, and will be glad to hear of her success in having several flattering offers in other large cities.

Stuntz—Fitzhugh.

The Charlottesville "Morning News" of Friday contains the following announcement:

"The engagement is announced of Miss John Conkling, daughter of W. D. Fitzhugh, of Eaglewood, Va., to Stephen Conrad Stuntz, of Richmond. The date for the wedding has not yet been decided upon. Mr. Stuntz, who is a clever writer, is the author of 'The Second Mrs. Jim'."

Closing Exercises.

The preparatory department of Westminster School will hold its closing exercises in the school building, Monday, June 4th, at 8:15 P. M.

The unique entertainment, called "The Toy Shop," promises to be of unusual interest.

Daddy "Tack Hammer," otherwise Master T. Cary Johnson, skillfully creates many kinds of dolls, whom the "Fairly Godmother," otherwise Miss Natalie McFadden, endows with life for one short hour, during which these animated dolls play games, drill as soldiers, and dance the minuet.

The "French Doll," Miss Lucy Lyne, arouses much jealousy on the part of her less fortunate sisters, by her extreme beauty and regal attire.

The Captain of the Soldiers, Miss Mildred Carter, drills her corps with a truly martial air.

The Dutch Doll, Miss Verna Albert, must be a late arrival from the land of dikes and canals, so well does she do her part.

"Jack-in-the-Box," Master Frank Christian, is always jumping out and "Butting in," and adds spice and laughter to the deeds of all the Jumping Jacks, the "Punches," and other dolls galore—great and small, domestic and foreign, who are faithfully impersonated by the following young ladies:

Misses Annie Scott, Lucylene Lyne, Louise Kellogg, Kemper Kellogg, Constance Johnston, Alice Angel, Susan Starke, Helen Starke, Helen Wilson, Esther Wilson, Elizabeth Elyson, Louise Elyson, Margaret Mathews, Esther Bennett, Wyatt Carneal, Powhatan Dance, Mildred Lefew, Elizabeth Brockenbrough, Mildred Williams, Margaret Taylor, James Taylor, May Mayo, Marion Lecky, Curtis Charlton, John Carneal, Freda Roseneck, Mary Green Jordan, Nan Wright, Margaret Miller, Elizabeth Buchanan, Landonia Christian, Ella Jenks, Elizabeth Tyler and Margaret Camp.

These exercises are under the skillful management of Miss Marion T. Clarke, who has charge of the preparatory grades, assisted by Miss Wilson, Miss Kate Staples, and Miss Carrie Vandever, of Ashland, who has been substituting for Miss Barney since the latter's illness.

These exercises close the work of the under grades of the school.

The commencement proper will take place on Tuesday, June 5th, at 3:30, in the lecture-room of the First Presbyterian Church, when the school graduates the first young ladies.

Art Reception.

The members of the art department of the Woman's College held the final reception and exhibition on Saturday evening, June 2d, in the college.

The invitations were in green and white—college colors—and gave the names of the students in the various classes.

Pupils completing the full course and receiving certificates of proficiency were Miss Lucy Scott and Miss Ethel Elam.

Pupils completing a three years' course and receiving certificates of distinction were Miss Alice Whitlock, and Miss Nannie Hall.

A prize for improvement was awarded Miss Dickie.

The exhibition was one of the largest the department has given and showed the growing interest in this subject among the students of the college.

The work of classes A, B, C was hung in the college chapel; that of special students, in one of the parlors; and several portraits and landscapes by Miss Whitfield, instructor of art in the college, in another parlor.

The art students of the Woman's College are following the example of art schools in the North—the Art Students' League of New York, and the Maryland Institute of Baltimore—in that each student who takes a certificate, diploma, scholarship or prize in art gives to the Institute a piece of work executed while studying there.

This year the young ladies taking certificates and Miss Dickie, winner of the improvement prize, are giving to the college pieces of work which will constitute a nucleus for a permanent art collection, increasing from year to year.

Such a collection, composed not only of student work, but augmented by gifts from patrons of art of paintings and pictures, is an indispensable necessity.

Richmond has long felt the need of an art gallery free to all who may wish to see pictures and sculpture; and the Woman's College has taken by this act of its students the first step towards such a gallery.

The department of art for 1905-06 is composed of Miss Emma Morehead Whitfield, instructor. In class A are Misses Gertrude Ligon, Mary Saunders, Sue Smith, Susan Diggs, Sarah Starke, Stella Jolly, Margaret Mathews.

Class B is composed of Misses Agnes Dickie, Irene Giesick, Bessie Harrison, Mary Estes.

Class C has on its list Misses Ethel Elam, Lucy Scott, Alice Whitlock, Nannie Hall.

Special students are Misses Alice Nelson, Helen Tanner, Mary Marra, Helen Perkins, and Nellie Birdsong.

Will Leave Next Week.

Miss Gay Montague reached home Saturday night from Hollins Institute, where she has been a student for the past year.

Miss Janet Montague and Master Latné, the two younger members of former Governor and Mrs. Montague's household, are spending the summer with Mrs. Montague's mother, Mrs. Hoskins, of King and Queen county.

Miss Gay will probably accompany her father and mother to the meeting of the Virginia Association of Women, at Norfolk, Va., which will be held at the Hotel Norfolk about June 10th and sail on the 18th, Ex-Governor Montague, with his wife and daughter, will go from New York to England and spend some time in London and Paris before proceeding to Brazil. The trip abroad promises everything in the way of pleasure and the stay in Rio Janeiro, the gayest and most delightful of the Latin-American capitals, will no doubt prove a most novel and interesting experience in social and diplomatic life.

The Richmond friends of the former Governor have not yet finished congratulating him on an appointment that is such a decided compliment to his professional ability, and offers him such a fine opportunity for spending some months in a charming and profitable manner.

Commencement Musicales.

The commencement of Miss Davis's School will take place Tuesday evening, 8:30 o'clock, at No. 906 1-2 Floyd Avenue.

After the commencement address by the Rev. W. B. Evans, of Monumental Church, and the awarding of class honors, the following musical recital will be given by the pupils of Miss Nannie Davis, the director of the music department in the school:

Programme.

Mozart, Sonata in C Major, with second piano part arranged by Grig Aliev.

Andante (Rondo)—Miss Cecil Hudson. Strabog Romance (Beaumont Ararat)—Miss Forest Hudson.

Kuhlan Sonatine in G Major, Allegretto (Heller Taranette)—Miss Cella Martin.

Mrs. Crosby Adams singing and swaying Kruger Hunting Song—Miss Lois Hudson.

Heller L'Avantlanche—Miss May Breed.

Kruse Sonatine in G Major (Vivace)

Assai): "Forest" (Gravotte)—Master Pinckney Powers.

Ph. Bach Solfeggietto Tschalkowsky Barcarole Rubens, Polish dance—Miss Lindsey Powers.

Bronson, Field Flowers; Gruetsmacher, Album Leaf; Tarszky, Taranette, Op. 6—Miss Cecil Hudson.

Proceeding the commencement, on Monday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, a charming little play, entitled "The Garden of Dreams and the Valley of Sleep" will be given by the young ladies of the school.

The play is a fanciful adaptation from Tennyson's "Dream of Fair Women," arranged by Miss Marie Leahy, showing a garden scene, and delightfully presented by the girls taking part.

Enjoyable Supper.

A most enjoyable supper was given at Forest Hill Park yesterday by some of Richmond's younger set. The tables abounded with all the season's delicacies and the affair was a great success from all standpoints.

Among those present were Misses Edna Arendall, of Lynchburg; Rose Goode, M. A. Neale, Jennie Wright, Grace Lee, Julia Goode, Carrie Grigsby, Jessie Mullen, Edith Moorehouse; Messrs. Arendall, of Lynchburg; J. F. Archer, H. H. Holland, H. W. Shelton, A. O. Peatross
